

a destination with a difference

Dear Reader,

Once more welcome to the third edition of our news letter. We come to you as the high season is about to commence with our newly refurbished and revamped Ashnil Samburu Camp with its simplistic elegance the 24 spacious luxury tents overlooking the Ewaso Nyiro River.

Our second success comes from the new Ashnil Mara Camp, a new era in hospitality industry in the Maasai Mara National Reserve with 30 elegant luxury tents on the confluence of the Mara and Olkeju Rivers. This is a stunning location, in a magnificent game reserve that guarantees a combination of serenity and comfort in a true destination with a difference.

Our Tsavo East National Park unit is ranked among the top three in Tsavo on Trip Advisor. The level of hospitality services remains unsurpassed in all our units thus registering good recommendations from visitors who have stayed with us. Our locations have also played an important part in choice of where to stay and proximity to animals and nature in general.

Our undivided concern for the environment over the years has seen us plant well over three thousand tree seedlings in Tsavo and 800 in Samburu. The Samburu seedlings were destroyed by the recent floods and our environment committee is piecing together a schedule for another exercise in the coming month. On 5th June 2010 our staff and guests will join hands with the rest of the world in celebrating Environment Day. We have 2500 tree seedlings to plant and a clean up exercise from all the three units. Long Live year of Bio-diversity!!!

Come join us bring success to a noble process
